Luan

It's been a few months since you joined us at the MCSummit in October.
Would you help us spread the word about a VR hackathon we are hosting Feb 24 - Mar 11?

Designers, developers, students, business strategists, and all others interested in the Metaverse are welcome.

The event includes 7 days of learning, and 7 days of hacking. Up for grabs is $4K of prize money for the top 9 submissions.
This is free for anyone. The schedule is spread across 14 days to allow global participation to learn and create while managing life's busy work/life responsibilities.
Registration and hackathon details can be found at https://metaversecreators.dev/hackathon.

Would you mind passing this along to one or two people who come to mind?
We are spending a long week in Saudi Arabia working on the Neom Metaverse project and attending LEAP in Riyadh, Feb 6-9. Message us if you are here as we'd love to talk Metaverse strategy.

Cheers,
Chris Keller
